We can't wait to see your brilliant ideas.

Online gaming issues

We have been dealing more frequently with issues around online gaming in school. We are hearing about children being virtually 'kicked out' of online parties by their friends. This is having a huge impact on self-esteem and this is impacting on their learning in school. We are also aware that some children are getting up early in order to play on these games before they come to school. To help with these issues please:

- Police your child's actions online
- Discuss with you child what how to deal with these issues if it happens to them
- Set strict times that your child can access their games consoles and stick to it
- Remember, you are the adult and children need to have boundaries to help protect them
- If they are being unkind online to others, address it with them
